READINGS

Today is Remembrance Sunday. As we call to mind the horror of war and all affected by conflict our readings ask us to reflect on the nature of true justice and peace.

Amos 5:18-24 The prophet questions our desire for judgment—why do we desire retribution and judgment? To desire a “just” outcome is to feed the cycle of violence. True justice is care for the poor and the needy, prioritising the needs of those whose lives are most affected by conflict.

Matthew 5:1-12 In the Beatitudes Jesus asks us to commit to living in a world which is radically different to our own in which mercy and peace are prioritised above judgment. This commitment is costly — as Christ's own life and death illustrate
